

Natasha Stott Despoja AO is a member of the UN Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW).

She is the founding Chair of Our Watch (the organisation to Prevent Violence against Women and their Children).

She is a former Senator for South Australia and a former Party Leader.

She has served as Australia's Global Ambassador for Women and Girls (2013-2016).

Natasha is an Honorary Visiting Research Fellow at The University of Adelaide. She is a member of the Australian National University Council, the Global Citizen Women's Council, Broad Agenda 50:50 by 2030 Advisory Group, the George Washington Global Women's Leadership Council and was member of the successful FIFA 2023 Women's World Cup Steering Committee.

She is a non-executive Director of a range of organisations including Carrie's Beanies for Brain Cancer, Global Citizen and The Australian Ballet.

She is the author of On Violence, published March 2019.

In 2011, Natasha was made a Member of the Order of Australia for her service to the Australian Parliament, education and as a role model for women.